WOULD-BE SUICIDE.

A Stranger Empties a Laudanum Bottle.

Supposed to Have Contained An Ounce of Morphine.

This forenoon about 11:30 o'clock a well dressed stranger in a black suit of clothes, and wearing a black derby and dark moustache, walked into Potter's restaurant on Second street, between Broadway and Court, and asked for a cup in which to take a dose of medicine. He said he would then buy something to eat.

Will Harrington, who was in charge at the time, gave him the cup, and he walked back and poured the contents of an ounce bottle of laudanum into the cup and then drained it off.

Harrington suspected something wrong when the stranger walked rapidly out without purchasing anything to eat, and the bottle was picked up from the floor. It was found it was labeled "Laudanum" and started after the would-be suicide, who ran down Court street and turned down towards the river, disappearing.

The bottle was left at the city hall and Mayor Yeiser said it would hold an ounce, but gave it as his opinion that the laudanum was not a good quality, judging from the color and what few drops remained. The man was heard nothing of afterwards up to press time.

JIM BAILEY

Arrested For Breaking Into a Boat.

Says He Is Innocent, But There Is Some Doubt.

Jim Bailey, who came here with his wife from Sugar Creek, Livingston county, two weeks ago, was warranted by Judge Santer's this morning on a charge of breaking into the shanty boat owned by the four young men in jail charged with being principals in theacking powder swindle.

Wednesday night the boat was broken open and everything valuable stolen out of it. Trucks being opened and filled of their contents and anything else of any worth taken.

Collins and his wife were living on a shanty boat on the Island opposite the city, and suspicion rested on the former. Officer Jones and Eiler crossed over yesterday in a skiff and arrested him, but his protests his innocence, and says he knows nothing about the robbery.

Collins yesterday swore out a warrant against Jim Bailey, colored, who lives at the foot of Madison street, charging him with possessing a pistol at him.

Bailey was presented in court this morning and had the case continued. He stated that Collins carried off a pair of his pants without permission, and that he pursued him to the middle of the river in a skiff, and that Collins reached into a back pocket as if in search of a pistol. He picked up a gun in the bottom of his boat and presented it at Collins, warning him to draw no weapon.

It appears that Bailey is the principal witness against Collins, and as he said he could prove his innocence by Henry Gibson, the case was continued.

Nancy Collins, wife of the defendant, was recognized for her appearance and is the daughter of Pier Scott, a well known citizen of Livingston county.

Red Davis, colored, was fined $5 and costs for striking August Legins.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the

Railroads and Railroad

People.

N. C. AND ST. L. RAILROAD.

Travel continues remarkably light for this season of the year.

Bridge Foreman Clover and Roadmaster Early were in on 104 last evening.

Soos, W. J. Hills went out on the 9:15 a. m. for a spin over the line.

Night hostler Jack Sauerberg reported for duty today and will groom the iron horses tonight.

Local in last night due at 6:30 did not arrive until 11 o'clock, delayed by a big train and hot boxes.

Engine 309, Thorberg and Edwards for bowlers, rolled in with the turn around at the gait the swallow flies.

Engine 205 with Jas. Herring and "Bumble Bee Mike," as the humbug workers took the place of the 4 on local this a. m.

It is said that Noah Wendle, boss of the floating gang, is rapidly getting the track belated with the gravel distributed during the fall.

The Baileys Club grows rapidly less. The members diminish weekly. One member was lost yesterday, and another dines on the coming 25d.

A. J. Welch, the division passenger agent, accompanied by his wife and mother, arrived last night from Memphis on a visit to Supt. Hills and family.

Jack Montland, the yardmaster, off for several days, sick, was called when Pete Perry retired this a. m. and responded, though not very strong himself.

Frank Duncan, the new night yardmaster at Memphis, is giving general satisfaction there, and everything goes with a hum during his watch.

Ben Englert, the "Cou" on local, left this morning with a string of cars as long as Rip Van Winkle's dream. But there was no Gretchen at the end of it.

Acting Yardmaster W. A. Perry was taken suddenly ill this morning about 9:30 o'clock, and had to retire, going home with a regular busk ache.

Paymaster Glenn's genial face and dextrous mode were missed behind the pay car counter this trip. His place was ably filled, however, by Mr. Taylor, of the treasury department.

Mrs. Bourke and children left for Lexington on the accommodation train to visit her parents. Mrs. Bourke is the widow of the boiler-maker who died about a year ago.

Conductor Tucker highballed the pay train at 8 o'clock this a. m. and she rolled out as second section of 104. She wends her way to Memphis today, distributing shackles and scattering joy on the way.

"Billy" King, the latest devotee at the shrine matrimonial, was around early this morning receiving the congratulations of his many friends. He was the victim of the usual amount of badinage dealt out to all new benedicts, but he stood it like a veteran.

Several of the boys are out today dressed as nobly as Fifth avenue swells. Conspicuous among them is Fireman Frank Schraven. His togs are a sample of Dicke's (tonies)—like the paper on the wall, and are all wool except the bottom holes which are silk.

The pile driver and crew will be put to work on Monday next. Hatchie river is to be the scene of their first effort, where piling for an entire new bridge will be driven. It is understood that the new structure is to be a draw, as "Big Hatchie" is on the list of navigable streams, and the railroad company have had trouble once or twice with small craft navigating it during high water, causing litigation.

It is safe to say that the many rumors in circulation, about what will be done with and into whose hands this division will fall are all speculations. The probabilities are that the N. C. & St. L. will still be in possession. The numbers of expensive improvements going on and contemplated at points out way, and the satisfactory revenue derived from its operation, guarantee that they will not relinquish it.

Will Lewis died him home on the first train upon receipt of the telegram announcing the birth of his heir. It is said that he rode the engine all the way in and helped the fireman shovel in the fuel, and then the time made us too slow for him. He's joy knew no bounds when he got in sight of the youngsters. But then, you know, every crowd thinks there's the blues, and some of the other boys will soon be arguing the point with him, if indications count for anything.

Mrs. L. Brigham, 409 Second street, recommends Roncado Tonic to all her friends. She has been sick for the past year, unable to do anything. Three doctors treated her all the time, but could not give her any relief. So a friend purchased a bottle of Roncado Tonic and gave to her. After taking about half a bottle she was up and able to do all her work. She advises all her friends to try the wonderful medicine. Office 110 South Third street.
